I'M RAISING MY BOY TO BE A SOLDIER TO FIGHT FOR THE U.S.A.

Words By LEO J. RYAN

Music By MRS. LEO J. RYAN

EVERY SONG A HIT!

EVERY HIT A HOME RUN!

Published by RYAN & BRADLEY PUB. CO
SO. GROVELAND, MASS.
I'm Raising My Boy to Be a Soldier to Fight for the U.S.A.

Words by LEO RYAN

Music by Mrs LEO RYAN
Arr. by JOS. FARLEY

A sweet-faced mother sitting by the
The Soldier Boy upon the field of fire-side________ Her boy has gone to fight for Uncle Sam________ Her day of battle________ Dear mother's face sweet memories would bring________ eyes are bright with tears although she's smiling________ As she listened to the military

He would think of days when childish prattle________ Would stop to hear his dear old mother band________ Her thoughts go back to when he was a baby________ singing________ These thoughts of home and mother made him tearful________ But

Copyright, 1917, by Ryan and Bradley Pub. Co. All rights reserved by Leo Ryan Dad had gone when Du-ty called to him
brave-ly he would-march on once a-gain
He al-ways called her Un-cle Sam-ny's
And when the bombs and guns be-gin to

CHORUS

La-dy ___ When she sung this song to Son-ny Jim, I'm rat-tle ___ My moth-er's song to vic-to-ry I'll bring, I'm rais-ing my boy to be a sol-dier ___ To fight for the U. S.

A. ___ I'm rais-ing my boy to be a sol-dier ___ He is

I'm Raising &c. 3
growing every day

Tenting to-night preparing to fight

They'll be off at the break of day

I'm raising my boy to be a soldier

To fight for the U. S. A.

I'm A.

I'm Raising &c. 3