Oh! How I Hate To Get Up In The Morning

By IRVING BERLIN

Marcia

Till ready

The other day I chanced to meet a soldier friend of mine. He'd been in camp for several weeks and army is the luckiest of men. He wakes the boys at five and then goes

he was looking fine; His muscles had developed and his cheeks were rosy back to bed again; He doesn't have to blow again until the afternoon, If every thing goes well with me I'll be a bugler soon.

I asked him how he liked the life, and this is what he said:

CHORUS

"Oh! how I hate to get up in the morning,
Oh! how I'd love to remain in bed;
For the hardest blow of all, is to hear the bugler call;
You've got to get up, you've got to get up, you've got to get up this morning!

Some day I'm going to murder the bugler,
Some day they're going to find him dead;
I'll amputate his revell, and step upon it heavily,
I'll put my uniform away and move to Philadelphia, and spend the rest of my life in bed.

Oh! boy the minute the battle is over,
Oh! boy the minute the foe is dead;
And Mammy's Little Pansy.
